MIRANKI S.À R.L.

DESCRIPTION

Miranki specializes in developing artificial intelligence-based solutions by combining AI agents with human intelligence. Miranki is working in particular on the creation of a Collective SuperIntelligence. This technology aims to improve various aspects of communication and interaction through intelligent and customizable AI agent solutions. They have to date launched 2 distinct but complementary products: 1. Sendplify: An AI B2C assistant that makes mobile messaging easier and better. This product optimizes exchanges by adding an intelligent and personalized dimension to mobile communications, improving the user experience. 2. Sendplex: A B2B platform for deploying and managing AI agents in customer service. Sendplex is designed to improve the efficiency and personalization of customer interactions, allowing businesses to configure agents tailored to their specific needs. Miranki therefore focuses on innovation in AI for communication and customer service, with a strategic objective of market expansion, particularly in Luxembourg.
