ELORA S.A.

DESCRIPTION

For decades, companies have been using repetitive calls for client-related tasks, including debt collection, prospection and many more. This has been expensive, time-consuming and painful for employees. To solve those problems for any company, we created a conversational AI automating these calls. It can call or receive calls from any target, discuss over the phone, maintain a natural and personalized conversation, and take the right actions after each call. Our AI increases companies efficiency, employees productivity and scales calling teams, which leads to increase companies revenue and liquidity! At DCInnovation, we're redefining AI and human collaboration. Join us in embracing the future of communication and efficiency.
